

Local Aboriginal Groups

Bathurst Local Aboriginal Land Council

BLALC, located in Bathurst, focuses on advocacy, cultural heritage assessments, and providing low-income rental properties and men's homelessness services. They are engaged in land management and cultural preservation efforts, including the rehabilitation of significant sites like Wahluu Gimaara. Collaborating with BLALC can be initiated by reaching out to their CEO, Toni-Lee Scott, at CEO@bathurstlalc.com or by phone at (02) 6332 6835.

Orange Aboriginal Medical Service

Orange Aboriginal Medical Service

A comprehensive Aboriginal community-controlled health service providing medical, dental, holistic and wellness programs for individuals and families across the region, including children, chronic care and social support.

Contact Details –

Phone: (02) 6393 9000

Orange Local Aboriginal Land Council

OLALC, based in Orange, is dedicated to supporting Aboriginal people aged 0 to 64 with disabilities through the NSW Aboriginal Ability Links program, assisting them to "live the life they wish to live." The council also offers services such as supported homelessness programs for adults and families, housing support, and community development initiatives. They are actively involved in land regeneration projects and provide cultural services like Welcome to Country ceremonies. To collaborate with OLALC, individuals and organizations can contact them directly via email at reception@olalc.com.au or by phone at (02) 6361 4742.

Wiradyuri Traditional Owners Central West Aboriginal Corporation

A community-based cultural group promoting Indigenous heritage, language and community connection in the broader Bathurst region. To Get in contact email: dhuluny@wahluuwiradyuri.com.au